

"I alone cannot change the world
but I can cast a stone across the water to create many ripples"

Mother Theresa

These words tell us about doing good things and “infecting” the other people with them... I’m just a kid; so I can’t change the whole world. But I can do some things that are possible for me to do.

For example: Helping younger kids. Maybe... I would do a poster about this and post it in my school (‘I cast a stone’). Then the kids (‘waters’) will see this and some of them would help younger friends from school. So I “created ripples in their minds”; and now they can show it to more people. And if someone would “cast a stone” in every school, it really would change the world. No matter if it would be about helping kids, cleaning the world or something; it really would help.

So, maybe I alone can’t change the world but with other people we can do it; together... We must just “cast the stones into water”
